GLOBAL PHARMACEUTICAL MARKET OVERVIEW

2017 has been a year of innovation and advances for the global life sciences industry, witnessing record new drug approvals primarily in the areas of rare diseases, neurological disorders and cancer therapies. A total of 46 new molecular entities were approved by the USFDA (US Food and Drug Administration).

2017 was the most rewarding year in two decades for USFDA approvals and number of approvals were significantly above the average of 31 drugs approved per year during 2008 to 2016. Approvals in the treatment of cancer dominated the list with 12 drugs, representing a quarter of authorisations.

An important development in drugs approval has been the increasing focus on accelerating the development of drugs having the Breakthrough Therapy Designation (BTD), a status indicating either the drug addresses an unmet need and has demonstrated preliminary clinical evidence that the drug may offer a substantial clinical improvement over available therapies on a clinically significant endpoint(s). During 2015 and 2016, the average time from commencement of human clinical trials to USFDA approval of such drugs was 65 months compared to 110 months for approval without BTD status<sup>1</sup>.

In terms of R&D pipeline (including all types of drugs in development), the industry recorded growth for the seventh consecutive year, reaching an all-time high of 15,267 drugs for 2018. An impressive 3,807 new drugs commenced development in 2017 with many of them from small and medium enterprises<sup>2</sup>.

In terms of R&D pipeline by therapeutic segments, Oncology was the largest therapeutic category with 5,212 drugs under development. The segment's total share in the pipeline increased from 26.8% in 2010 to 32.6% in 2017 [Fig. 1], indicating that for every three drugs under development, one has oncology indication attached to them<sup>2</sup>.

Prescription Drugs Sales Trend

The global prescription drug sales witnessed a lacklustre top-line, with revenue growth of under 1% to USD 774.0 billion in 2017. However, overall prospects remain positive with sales forecasted to grow at an impressive CAGR of 6.5% over the next five years (2017-2022) to USD 1.06 trillion, compared to the 2.2% CAGR achieved during 2012-2016<sup>3</sup>. Recovery in spending on prescription drugs is anticipated to be broad-based across most markets fuelled by consolidation in generics markets and increased budgets for high-priced treatments, including orphan drugs that increasingly address the diseases around the world that are not well served today.

Strong Growth in Segments where SPARC Operates

While the overall drug sales are expected to grow at 6.5% during 2017-2022<sup>3</sup>, areas such as Oncology and Sensory Organs (Ophthalmology and Dermatology), where SPARC operates are likely to record stronger growth [Table 1].

Oncology will continue to fuel sales growth, driven by the ageing population, lifestyle changes and new treatments. Anticancer drugs sales are expected to grow at a CAGR of 12.7% during 2017-22. Its share in total drug sales during this period will increase from about 11.7% to 17.5%<sup>4</sup>. Oncology will be an area that will demand increasing engagement of stakeholders owing to the exponential increase in treatment complexities and costs that will eventually impact everything from clinical trials to the commercial models.

Sensory organs, comprising organs to smell, see, touch, hear and taste is another important area that will see growth. The segment, driven by various therapies saw sales increasing to USD 20.2 billion in 2016 and this is expected to grow to USD 28.3 billion by 2022 contributed by the ageing population and several innovative therapies under development, particularly relating to eye-related diseases<sup>4</sup>. Dermatology drugs used for treatment of skin conditions gaining prominence. Sales of dermatological drugs are expected to nearly double from USD 10.5 billion in 2016 to USD 19.9 billion by 2022<sup>4</sup>.

EMERGING TRENDS IN PHARMACEUTICAL R&D INDUSTRY

Global pharmaceutical research and development industry is embracing transformational changes at a pace faster than ever before. The new tools that are being utilised to invent novel drugs are exponentially advancing. These new modalities are affecting the types of medicines being developed, the way technology contributes to health and how the value of healthcare is calculated.

There is an emerging trend in the use of real-world data in regulatory applications to support new drug applications and regulators appear open to reviewing such data. A wave of cell and gene therapies is changing the definition of what constitutes a drug, both clinically and in terms of expectations of outcomes, duration of treatment and costs. Technology itself can be a treatment, mobile apps and wearables are newly appearing in treatment guidelines as a key feature of future care paradigms. Furthermore, mobile technology can be an enabler of tele-health communication that brings providers and patients together at substantially lower costs than traditional consultations.

Shift of Biopharmaceutical Innovation to Speciality Drug

The characteristics of biopharmaceutical innovation have evolved in some respects over the past two decades. There is a sustained shift in the focus of new medicines towards speciality drugs. Speciality drugs are generally defined as those medicines treating severe, chronic, complex or rare conditions. Drugs for the treatment of patients with cancer have increased their share of all launches from 11% in the 1996–2000 period to 28% in the most recent five year period. During the same period, drugs launched with an orphan indication rose from 21% to 42% of all launches. The proportion of new biopharmaceuticals that are biologic in nature and primarily prescribed by a specialist also rose during the past 20 years<sup>5</sup>.

As per the analysis of IQVIA, specialty will contribute all of the growth in medicine spending in 2018 (Fig. 3), offset by decline in spend on traditional medicines. Specialty medicines reflect a wide range of therapies like cancer, autoimmune diseases and anti-virals for hepatitis C. Ten drug categories account for 81% of specialty spending, while another 46 categories make up the remainder (Fig. 4). Oncology and autoimmune biologics lead the specialty categories, accounting for 46% of 2017 spending and 68% of projected growth in the next five years. Antiviral treatments, including those for hepatitis C, were significant drivers of growth in the last five years but are projected to decline, as many patients have already been treated (and cured)<sup>6</sup> and with multiple players competing has significantly lowered cost of treatment per patient.

A New Normal in R&D is Triggering Competition

The worldwide pharmaceutical and biotech R&D is likely to grow 2.4% per year to 2022, slightly lower than the 2.5% CAGR during 2008-2016. Total R&D spend is expected to reach USD 181 billion in 2022, compared to USD 156.7 billion in 2016. Significant innovation is coming from small niche companies focussed on discovering new drugs. Less than a quarter of drugs discovered are brought to market by big pharmaceutical companies<sup>3</sup>.

The industry is expected to continue to face challenges in R&D returns (Fig. 5). The cost of bringing an asset to market reached record high in 2017 and many of the largest drug developers will continue to be challenged by loss to generics. With an increase in the number and speed of approvals, a new normal in R&D is triggering competition in pricing, leaving less time for a manufacturer to gain substantially for breakthrough applications<sup>3</sup>.

Slowing of Drug Spending in Developed Markets

Since last couple of years, medicine spending growth is slowing. The causes of slowing growth may be associated with payers’ concerns about budgets and newly emerging mechanisms to adjudicate value that have the power to decide the choice of therapies for patients and thus limit the growth in spending for drugs.

Over the past five years, branded drug net spending in developed markets has risen from USD 326 billion to USD 395 billion. Compared to this, the invoice spending rose from USD 401 billion to USD 541 billion in the same period<sup>6</sup> [Fig. 6]. The use of off-invoice discounts and rebates along with statutory price concessions asked by payers and government programmes resulted in net spending which is USD 146 billion lower than invoice; and this difference has nearly doubled in the past five years<sup>6</sup> suggesting significant pressure on new drug pricing and market access.

In total, 87% of the USD 69 billion of net increase in spend has come from the United States. In other developed markets, like Japan, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, United Kingdom, Canada, South Korea and Australia where largely single-payer systems manage costs and prices, growth has been slower or declining since 2012<sup>6</sup>.

In 2018, net brand spending is projected to decline in developed markets by 1-3%<sup>6</sup>. Over the next five years, net brand spending may remain flat, despite the expected entry of new, branded medicines. Control of pricing and limiting or restricting access to new drugs by payers can influence drug spending trends for the longer term. Across the developed markets, payers will be spending the same or less on innovative medicines over the next five years. The United States is likely to be the one outlier among developed markets, with brand net spending growth expected at 1-4% through 2022; this contrasts with flat trends in the other developed markets and declines in Japan<sup>6</sup>.

Real-World Evidence in Drug Development

Use of Big Data gathered in real-world healthcare settings is increasingly being used across the entire healthcare system as Real-World Evidence (RWE). This data – which includes Electronic Health Records (EHR), claims data, disease registries, among other sources – may provide vital information on the use, benefits and risks of use of drugs outside of clinical trials. Payers have broadly adopted its use to guide value decisions on drug reimbursement, but only recently pharmaceutical companies and regulatory bodies also sought to bring the value of this data to bear on the drug development process, realising its potential to accelerate approvals and increase the robustness of the evidence generation process across a drug candidate's lifecycle<sup>6</sup>.

The USFDA is expected to release a framework on addressing the potential for RWE to accelerate the drug approval process, taking the first formal step to expand the types of evidence trials it will accept. This will clear a path for the industry to make use of RWE sources in the regulatory process. This framework, along with recent guidance on RWE use for medical devices, reflects a new willingness by the USFDA to use RWE to lighten the regulatory burden<sup>6</sup>.

INDIAN PHARMACEUTICAL R&D INDUSTRY

Pharmaceutical companies in India have embarked on the journey for discovering new drugs since early 2000. New drug discovery is resource intensive, requires building competencies and carries high risk of failure. Several leading companies are investing in building these capabilities and have now visible pipelines of late stage products. There is also an emergence of small drug discovery start-ups as access to capital has become somewhat easier. Such start-ups are backed by scientists trained in global drug discovery industry and academia.

Few of the companies have achieved remarkable success in setting up contract research business for early drug discovery research services. Big pharma are now increasingly outsourcing medicinal chemistry and preclinical pharmacology and toxicology research to India. Global clinical trials may also be outsourced to India due to favourable change in the regulations.

Though India lags China significantly in attracting contract research work, the trend is positive and is likely to accelerate in coming years. The growth of contract drug discovery services business is important and valuable in creating trained and skilled talent pool which may fulfil the need for such workforce in drug discovery research.

The pipeline of new products being developed by Indian pharmaceutical industry is gradually growing and it may be a realistic expectation that we may see successful registrations in highly regulated markets like US and Europe of a novel chemical entities and biologics discovered in India.

The pipeline of new products being developed by Indian pharma industry is gradually growing and it may be a realistic expectation that we may see successful registrations in highly regulated markets like US and Europe of a novel chemical entities and biologics discovered in India.

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

As the industry is rapidly embracing transformational changes, fundamental shifts in the way a new drug is discovered, developed or approved by regulatory agencies will be observed. The USFDA intends to not only define a role for Real-World Evidence, but also build a policy framework to modernise approaches to clinical trial design, support accelerated approvals, simplify the post-approval landscape and adapt to future regulatory needs. For the industry which is confronting ever rising R&D costs and shrinking available markets for new drugs, the modernisation of the USFDA may offer the possibility of slowing the growth of R&D costs, multiplying the number of new medicines that can be developed and approved from the same spend and accelerating approvals. However, the faster and higher number of new drug approvals will likely generate intense competition and that coupled with increasingly tighter reimbursement and market access controls by payers may significantly reduce the potential financial returns per drug approval. It may therefore force the industry to have a hard look at their pipeline and focus on programmes which have clear differentiation and addresses clear unmet medical needs to generate real value to become a viable commercial opportunity.

OPERATIONS REVIEW

Your Company earned net revenues of ₹ 8,320 lakhs during the previous financial year. The source of income was royalty received for the products licensed.

We also generated exceptional income through the sale of our R&D facility at Tandalja and the proceeds of the sale are being utilised for the development of our new R&D facility at Savli.

The expected revenue on approval/commercialisation of Xelpros™ and Elepsia™ XR could not be realised due to GMP compliance issues at our partner's manufacturing site. Additionally, due to negative outcomes in the pivotal studies Baclofen GRS and Salmeterol – Fluticasone DPI the revenue linked to licensing of these 2 programmes did not materialize.

To manage the increasing spend on our clinical stage pipeline, we secured funding of up to ₹ 500 crore through Preferential Allotment of warrants convertible into equity shares.

The bulk of our expenses during the year were due to clinical trials of our programmes under development and employee costs. In the coming year, we expect increase in our clinical trials spending as some of our programmes will advance from early clinical studies to late-stage or pivotal clinical studies and some programmes entering into clinical stage from pre-clinical stage.

Your Company is in pursuit of ensuring that we develop pharmaceutical products that can cater to the unmet medical needs of the patients across the world. Your Company's business has been built keeping long-term and sustainable growth in mind and we believe that we have been successful in building a strong foundation, which will propel us to the next level of growth.

SPARC Performance Snapshot 2017-18

The year 2017-18 was a challenging year for SPARC. During the year, we made steady progress in advancing several programs to clinical stage, at the same time 2 of our late stage programs did not meet the desired outcomes in the pivotal studies.

Our late-stage programme Baclofen GRS, did not meet the primary endpoints in the pivotal clinical studies. Baclofen GRS was expected to provide significant licensing income in FY18 upon successful outcome of the pivotal studies. SPARC DPI met the endpoint for PIF study. In the low dose PK study, bio-equivalence was established for Fluticasone, however, Salmeterol component did not meet bio-equivalence criteria, which could be attributed to high variability observed with the reference product.

Additionally, we could not realise revenues of the licensed products viz. Elepsia™ XR and Xelpros™ due to the continued GMP non-compliance status of our partner's manufacturing facility.

On the positive side, our early clinical stage programmes have made consistent progress during the year. We successfully completed Proof of Concept Phase 2 study of Brimonidine OD and obtained guidance from USFDA for its registration study.

Pre-IND consultation with USFDA was completed for SDP-037, a program being developed for eye pain and inflammation after cataract surgery. USFDA suggested a single Phase 3 study requirement for marketing approval and thus SDP-037 can be potentially filed for approval in FY20 if Phase 3 study's outcome is positive.

For K0706 CML programme, we completed Phase 1a studies and completed 4 dose levels in the crucial Phase 1b dose range finding study.

The pivotal BE study of Taclantis™ randomised over 2/3rd of the target patients.

We completed Phase 1 Single Ascending Dose (SAD) study and food effect study for SCD-044.

During the year, we initiated testing of K0706 in patients with Parkinson's Disease and completed a Phase 1 PK and safety study. We also initiated Pilot Human Abuse Liability (HAL) study for SDN-021.

We continued our focus on identifying early opportunities and our collaborations with academic centres. Apart from Elepsia™ XR and Xelpros™ we have 3 near-term opportunities in Taclantis™, Brimonidine OD and SDP-037 for out-licensing and generating licensing income over next 2 years.

In summary, your Company has made some significant progress in spite of setback in 2 late-stage programs. We have 3 near-term opportunities in Taclantis™, Brimonidine OD and SDP-037 for out-licensing and generating licensing income over next 2 years.

In the coming years, our NCE programs K0706 in CML and in Parkinson's Disease and SCD-044 for autoimmune disorders will be progressing to advanced clinical studies and will require significant investments in these studies.

To meet the escalating developmental and clinical costs, we secured funding of up to ₹ 500 crore through Preferential Allotment of warrants convertible into equity shares and received a part of the proceeds.

We will now provide detailed update on key programmes.

- 10 Dermatology Programmes

LICENSED PROGRAMMES

1. Elepsia™ XR once-a-day tablet for Epilepsy
2. Xelpros™ eye drops for Glaucoma

Approval of both the programmes is further delayed due to the GMP non-compliance status of our partner's manufacturing facility. As an alternate plan, we have contracted alternate manufacturing sites for both programmes and have initiated technology transfer. After technology transfer, SPARC needs to manufacture GMP batches from alternate site and generate stability data of the batches manufactured from alternate site. If Halol site achieves the GMP compliance prior to generating data from alternate site, we will pursue the regulatory filing from Halol facility. However, there is continued uncertainty regarding approval timeline.

CLINICAL STAGE PROGRAMMES

1. Baclofen GRS once-a-day capsules for Spasticity in Multiple Sclerosis

Baclofen GRS is a novel once-a-day formulation of Baclofen, based on SPARC's Gastro Retentive Innovative Device (GRID) Technology. We conducted pivotal Phase 3 clinical studies under Special Protocol Assessment (SPA) with USFDA.

In pivotal efficacy studies, Baclofen GRS did not meet the primary endpoints, however, results of Secondary endpoints e.g. Subject Global Impression of Severity (SGIS) score was statistically significant, and favoured Baclofen GRS ( $p < 0.05$ ). Several other endpoints, such as spasm frequency and night time awakenings, also favoured Baclofen GRS (both  $p < 0.001$ ).

We are assessing the data and preparing to discuss outcomes of studies with the USFDA to decide the future course of action.

2. Salmeterol-Fluticasone Dry Powder Inhaler for Asthma and COPD

SPARC DPI is a pre-metered, 60 doses, breath-activated device to administer an inhaled combination of Salmeterol and Fluticasone. SPARC DPI uses half the dose of Salmeterol and Fluticasone as compared to Advair®/Seretide®.

We completed the pivotal studies required for registration of SPARC DPI in Europe. SPARC DPI met the endpoint for Peak Inspiratory Flow (PIF) study. In the low dose PK study bio-equivalence was established for Fluticasone, however, Salmeterol component did not meet bio-equivalence criteria, which could be attributed to high variability observed with the reference product.

We are assessing the future course of action.

3. Taclantis™ (Paclitaxel Injection Concentrate for Suspension) for Solid Tumours

Taclantis™ is a Cremophor® and Albumin free nano particle formulation of Paclitaxel. It is developed using SPARC's proprietary Nanotecton™ Technology.

Taclantis™ offers ease of reconstitution and administration, shorter infusion time and reduced risk of allergic side effects.

Based on the results of the pilot Bioequivalence (BE) study, and subsequent discussions with USFDA for considering BE study as potential registration pathway, we have initiated a pivotal BE study of Taclantis™. More than 2/3rd of the targeted patients are randomised on the study to date. We plan to file NDA (New Drug Application) with USFDA by Q4 FY19 if the study results are positive.

4. K0706 for treatment resistant Chronic Myeloid Leukemia (CML)

K0706 is a novel and highly selective BCR-ABL kinase inhibitor. K0706 being selective has a lower potential for serious and life-threatening side effects as observed with marketed BCR-ABL kinase inhibitors. It is designed to be efficacious in treatment resistant CML, especially for patients who have failed on more than 2 lines of available therapy and may have developed resistance to the standard of care. Currently, there are very limited treatment choices for patients who develop resistance to available treatments.

We have completed Phase 1a study to characterise the pharmacokinetic profile of this agent. K0706 is now being evaluated in a dose range finding study in treatment refractory CML patients and has completed 4 dose escalations. K0706 appears to be very well tolerated and no significant adverse effects have been reported in this ongoing study to date. Encouraging preliminary efficacy has been observed in some patients with blood counts normalising rapidly in these patients.

We plan to initiate the pivotal study by Q3 FY19.

5. Brimonidine OD eye drops for Glaucoma

SPARC has developed a once-a-day formulation of Brimonidine eye drops for Glaucoma based on its proprietary TearAct™ Technology. The currently marketed product requires three times a day dosing, which leads to patient compliance issues.

We completed Phase 2 Proof of Concept study in Glaucoma patients in Europe. The outcomes of the study confirmed the benefits of our once-a-day formulation compared to the currently marketed formulation.

We discussed this programme with USFDA under Pre-IND consultation and obtained guidance for studies required for marketing approval. USFDA requires a single Phase 3 study to support registration. We have filed IND with USFDA and initiating pivotal Phase 3 study for its registration.

If outcomes are positive, this programme can be filed within 2 years for marketing approval.

6. SDP-037 eye drops for Ocular Pain and Inflammation

SPARC is developing a novel long-acting (twice-a-day) formulation of USFDA approved ophthalmic steroid for eye pain and inflammation after cataract surgery. Currently, marketed steroidal eye drops requires administration every 4 to 6 hours.

SDP-037 is developed using our proprietary composition of non-ionic, cationic and anionic solubilisers to produce unique micelles. Solubilisation of steroid provides clear colourless appearance and polymeric stabiliser provides longer retention and bio-adhesion that helps to retain efficacy at reduced dosing frequency and lower drug concentrations.

SPARC has completed Pre-IND consultation with USFDA and obtained guidance for registration. We plan to file IND in Q2 FY19 and initiate pivotal Phase 3 study for potential registration in US. This programme can be filed within 2 years if the study outcome is positive.

7. SCD-044 for Autoimmune disorders

SPARC in collaboration with Bioprojet, a French biotech company is developing highly selective Sphingosine-1-Phosphate Receptor 1 (S1PR1) agonist for autoimmune disorders. Higher selectivity for S1PR1 is expected to provide better cardiac safety and PK (Pharmacokinetic) profile compared to marketed first generation product fingolimod. Fingolimod is approved for multiple sclerosis and has achieved remarkable success in spite of significant safety issues. Our objective with SCD-044 is to be as efficacious as Fingolimod with significantly improved safety profile.

After completing extensive preclinical studies and toxicology studies, SPARC completed Phase 1 SAD study and initiated Phase 1 Multiple Ascending Dose (MAD) study for SCD-044 in Europe. This study is progressing smoothly and so far no safety concerns have been reported.

8. K0706 for Parkinson's Disease

The role of c-ABL Kinase, the target enzyme for K0706 in Parkinson's disease progression has been extensively studied and reported. In animal models of Parkinson's Disease, K0706 demonstrated remarkable efficacy and prevented disease progression.

Parkinson's Disease is an ageing disorder with limited treatment options. Currently approved drugs only manage the symptoms of the disease. There are no drugs approved which can prevent or possibly even reverse the relentless progression of this disease. We believe K0706 has significant potential in modifying or halting the disease progression in Parkinson's Disease patients.

SPARC completed Phase 1 safety and tolerability studies in healthy volunteers and is planning to initiate Phase 2 clinical Proof of Concept study in patients with Parkinson's Disease by Q2 FY19.

9. SDN-021 for Pain

SPARC is working on a novel delivery platform to address the escalating problem of prescription drug abuse. SPARC's platform technology deters oral multi-pill abuse. Upon ingestion of multiple pills, the technology reduces peak drug levels and slows down their release; the technology is also designed to deter abuse by other prevalent routes - injection and snorting.

SPARC completed pilot PK study in healthy volunteers and initiated Human Abuse Liability (HAL) study in recreational users. The study is expected to be completed by Q3 FY19.

10. Dermatology Programmes

We have 2 dermatology programmes viz., S597 Topical for steroid responsive Dermatoses and Minocycline Topical for Acne.

S597 Topical was studied in a pilot Psoriasis plaque study wherein we could establish dose response and efficacy in between low to mid potency steroids. S597 appears to be very safe and has potential for treatment of steroid responsive Dermatoses.

Minocycline is currently dosed orally and is considered as standard of care for moderate-to-severe Acne. However, oral Minocycline is associated with several systemic side effects.

SPARC's formulation being topical is expected to be free from systemic side effects and provide better bioavailability at the site of action.

We have optimised the formulation of this agent and have completed required safety and toxicological studies to initiate clinical trials.

Both programmes now require clinical development which will require significant amount of resources. Considering our stretched resources and need for advancing other high priority programmes, we have decided to develop dermatology programmes in collaboration with a partner.

We are discussing collaboration options of these programmes with potential partners.

OUTLOOK

We continue to work closely with our commercialisation partner and USFDA for expediting the approval of Elepsia™ XR and Xelpros™. We have also made significant progress in bringing our early developmental pipeline to clinical stage and initiated human studies for several programmes during the year.

We are working on augmenting our early developmental pipeline through an internal ideation process and also sourcing new science through our collaborations with academic institutes in the US.

SPARC is adapting to the changing trends that are shaping and changing the industry, and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future. # Annexure II to the Independent Auditor's Report

Annexure 2 to the Independent Auditor's Report of even date on the financial statements of Sun Pharma Advanced Research Company Limited

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Sun Pharma Advanced Research Company Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2018 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing as specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and, both issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2. Significant accounting policies

2.1 Statement of compliance

The Company has prepared financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2018 in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended) together with the comparative period data as at and for the year ended March 31, 2017. Further, the Company has prepared the opening balance sheet as at April 01, 2016 (the transition date) in accordance with Ind AS.

For all the periods up to the year ended March 31, 2017, the Company had prepared its financial statements in accordance with accounting standards notified under the section 133 of the Companies Act 2013, read together with paragraph 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 (Indian GAAP).

These are the Company's first Ind AS financial statements. Refer Note 43 for the details of first-time adoption exemptions availed by the Company.

2.2 Basis of preparation and presentation

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for: (i) certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period; and (ii) defined benefit plans – plan assets that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

The financial statements are prepared in INR and all values are rounded to the nearest Lakhs, except when otherwise stated. The Company has consistently applied the following accounting policies to all periods presented in these financial statements.

a) Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current / non-current classification. An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading

Notes to Financial Statements

for the year ended 31st March, 2018

- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

b) Foreign currency

The Company's financial statements are presented in INR, which is also the company's functional currency.

On initial recognition, transactions in currencies other than the Company's functional currency (foreign currencies) are translated at exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date. Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on translating monetary items at rates different from those at which they were translated on initial recognition during the period or in previous period are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

c) Fair Value Measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

for the year ended 31st March, 2018

- Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

d) Segment Reporting

Based on the "Management Approach" as defined in Ind AS 108 - Operating Segment, the chief operating decision maker of the Company is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments and accordingly is identified as the chief operating decision maker. Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker.

The Company prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

e) Property, Plant and Equipment

Items of property, plant and equipment including capital work-in-progress are stated in balance sheet at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Cost directly attributable to acquisition are capitalised until the property, plant and equipment are ready for use, as intended by the management.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. All other repairs and maintenance cost are recognised in the statement of profit and loss account as incurred.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of property, plant and equipment and is recognised in profit or loss.

Depreciation is calculated on a straight line basis over the estimated useful life of the assets as follows:

Asset Category	No. of Years
Buildings	60
Plant and equipment	3-25
Vehicles	5
Office equipment	2-5
Furniture and fixtures	10

The Company, based on technical assessment made by technical experts and management estimate, depreciates certain items plant and equipment, vehicle over estimated useful lives which are different from the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic and reflects fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used. Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Notes to Financial Statements

for the year ended 31st March, 2018

A leased assets is depreciated over the useful life of the assets. However, if there is no reasonable certainty that the company will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset and the lease term.

The company has elected to measure all its PPE at the previous GAAP carrying amount at the date of transition to Ind AS. (Refer Note 43)

f) Intangible assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Company and that have finite useful lives are measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditures are capitalised only when they increase the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which they relate.

Software for internal use, which is primarily acquired from third-party vendors, including consultancy charges for implementing the software, is capitalised. Subsequent costs are charged to the statement of profit and loss as incurred. The capitalised costs are amortised over the estimated useful life of the software i.e. 5 years.

Derecognition of intangible assets

Intangible assets are de-recognised either on their disposal or where no future economic benefits are expected from their use. Gain or loss arising on such de-recognition is recognised in profit or loss and are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amount of respective intangible assets as on the date of de-recognition.

g) Research and development cost

Expenditure on research activities undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding are recognised as an expense when incurred. Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes. An internally-generated intangible asset arising from development is recognised if and only if all of the following have been demonstrated:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that the asset will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

The expenditure to be capitalised include the cost of materials and other costs directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use. Other development expenditure is recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Procurement of research and development materials are issued directly for consumption to the user department and disclosed under R & D materials consumed.

h) Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's tangible and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash-generating unit (as defined below) is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or the cash-generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. For the purpose of impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or groups of assets (the "cash-generating unit").

An impairment loss is recognised in the profit or loss if the estimated recoverable amount of an asset or its cash generating unit is lower than its carrying amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit on a pro-rata basis.

In respect of other asset, impairment losses recognised in prior periods are assessed at each reporting date for any indications that the loss has decreased or no longer exists. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

i) Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement-

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date.

Subsequent measurement-

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in three categories:

- i. Financial assets measured at amortised cost
- ii. Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- iii. Financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

A. Debt instruments

- i. Debt instruments measured at amortised cost - A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:
  - The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
  - Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included in Other Income in the profit or loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognised in the profit or loss.

Notes to Financial Statements

for the year ended 31st March, 2018

ii. Debt instruments measured at FVTOCI - A 'debt instrument' is measured as at FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- The contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are SPPI on the principal amount outstanding.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognised in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognises interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the profit or loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to profit or loss. Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

iii. Debt instruments measured at FVTPL - FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorisation as at amortised cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortised cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is allowed only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as 'accounting mismatch').

B. Equity instruments

All equity instruments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company may make an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value in OCI. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, including foreign exchange gain or loss and excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to profit or loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the profit or loss.

Derecognition-

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- The contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or The Company has transferred its rights to receive contractual cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.
- When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred

control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

On Derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity is recognised in profit or loss if such gain or loss would have otherwise been recognised in profit or loss on disposal of that financial asset.

Impairment of financial assets-

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortised cost
- b) Lease receivables under Ind AS 17
- c) Trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset
- d) Loan commitments which are not measured as at FVTPL

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables or any contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset.

The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

As a practical expedient, the Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analysed.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the statement of profit and loss (P&L). This amount is reflected under the head 'other expenses' in the P&L. The balance sheet presentation for various financial instruments is described below:

- Financial assets measured as at amortised cost, contractual revenue receivables and lease receivables:

ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the group does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

Financial liabilities and equity instruments-

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments-

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Initial recognition and measurement-

All financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

Subsequent measurement-

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method or at FVTPL.

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss-

Financial liabilities are classified as at FVTPL when the financial liability is held for trading or is designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred principally for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term or on initial recognition it is part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Company manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking. This category also includes derivative entered into by the Company that are not designated and effective as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109. Gains or losses on liabilities held for trading are recognised in the profit or loss.

Financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortised cost-

Financial liabilities that are not held-for-trading and are not designated as at FVTPL are measured at amortised cost in subsequent accounting periods. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortised cost are determined based on the effective interest rate (EIR) method. Interest expense that is not capitalised as part of costs of an asset is included in the 'Finance costs' line item in the profit or loss.

After initial recognition, such financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the EIR method. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortisation is included as finance costs in the profit or loss.

Derecognition-

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Notes to Financial Statements

Reclassification of financial assets-

The Company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Company's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Company's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Company reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Company does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

j) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is (or contains) a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception of the lease. The arrangement is, or contains, a lease if fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

Company as a lessee-

A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the lessee is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments are generally recognised as an expense in the profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Where the rentals are structured solely to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases, such increases are recognised in the year in which such benefits accrue. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are also recognised as expenses in the periods in which they are incurred.

k) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of 3 months or less which are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and fixed deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

l) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of obligation. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Contingent liabilities and contingent assets-

Contingent liability is disclosed for,

- i. Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Company, or
- ii. Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

Notes to Financial Statements

for the year ended 31st March, 2018

Contingent Assets are not recognised in the financial statements unless it becomes virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits will arise. When an inflow of benefits is probable, contingent assets are disclosed in financial statements.

m) Revenue

Revenue is net of returns, sales tax, service tax, goods and service tax, chargebacks, rebates and other similar allowances.

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made.

Revenue from services rendered i.e. Sale of Technology / Know-how (rights, licenses and other intangibles) is recognised in the profit or loss as the underlying services are performed or when risk and rewards of ownership of the products are passed on to the customers, which is generally as per agreement. Upfront non-refundable payments received are deferred and recognised as revenue over the expected period over which the related services are expected to be performed.

Royalties

Royalty revenue is recognised on an accrual basis in accordance with the substance of the relevant agreement (provided that it is probable that economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably). Royalty arrangements that are based on sales and other measures are recognised by reference to the underlying arrangement.

Dividend

Dividend income is recognised when the Company's right to receive the payment is established, which is generally when shareholders approve the dividend.

Interest income

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

n) Employee benefits

Defined benefit plans

The liability in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated using the projected unit credit method with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each annual reporting period. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. The currency and term of the government bonds shall be consistent with the currency and estimated term of the post-employment benefit obligations. The current service cost of the defined benefit plan, recognised in the profit or loss as employee benefits expense, reflects the increase in the defined benefit obligation resulting from employee service in the current year, benefit changes, curtailments and settlements. Past service costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period of a plan amendment. The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in profit or loss. Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged or credited to OCI in the period in which they arise and is reflected immediately in retained earnings and is not reclassified to profit or loss.

Notes to Financial Statements

Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognised as an expense at the earlier of the date when the Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the entity recognises costs for a restructuring that is within the scope of Ind AS 37 and involves the payment of termination benefits.

Short-term and Other long-term employee benefits

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, and casual leave in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service. The liability in respect of leave encashment is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method at the end of financial year.

The Company's net obligation in respect of other long term employee benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and previous periods. That benefit is discounted to determine its present value.

Defined contribution plans

The Company's contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as an expense as and when the services are received from the employees entitling them to the contributions.

o) Income tax

Income tax expense consists of current and deferred tax. Income tax expense is recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively. Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable profit for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Company.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Withholding tax arising out of payment of dividends to shareholders under the Indian Income tax regulations is not considered as tax expense for the Company and all such taxes are recognised in the statement of changes in equity as part of the associated dividend payment.

Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') credit is recognised as deferred tax asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax during the period for which the MAT credit can be carried forward for set-off against the normal tax liability. MAT credit recognised as an asset is reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and written down to the extent the aforesaid convincing evidence no longer exists.

p) Earnings per share

The Company presents basic and diluted earnings per share ("EPS") data for its equity shares. Basic EPS is calculated by dividing the profit or loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS is determined by adjusting the profit or loss attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding for the effects of all dilutive potential ordinary shares, which includes all stock options granted to employees.

The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any share splits and bonus shares issues including for changes effected prior to the approval of the financial statements by the Board of Directors.

q) Share Issue Expenses

The Company incurs various costs in issuing or acquiring its own equity instruments. The transaction costs of an equity transaction are accounted for as a deduction from equity to the extent they are incremental costs directly attributable to the equity transaction that otherwise would have been avoided. The costs of an equity transaction that is abandoned are recognised as an expense.

The management assessed that cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, loans, trade payables, other financial assets and other financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The Company's risk management assessment and policies and processes are established to identify and analyze the risks faced by the Company, to set appropriate risk limits and controls, and to monitor such risks and compliance with the same. Risk assessment and management policies and processes are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Company's activities.

Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. In particular, information about significant areas of estimation uncertainty and critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements is included in the following notes:

1 Useful lives of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets represent a significant proportion of the asset base of the Company. The charge in respect of periodic depreciation and amortisation is derived after determining an estimate of an asset's expected useful life and the expected residual value at the end of its life. The useful lives and residual values of Company's assets are determined by the management at the time the asset is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. The lives are based on historical experience with similar assets as well as anticipation of future events, which may impact their life, such as changes in technical or commercial obsolescence arising from changes or improvements in production or from a change in market demand of the product or service output of the asset.

2 Assets and obligations relating to employee benefits

The employment benefit obligations depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis using a number of assumptions. The assumptions used in determining the net cost/ (income) include the discount rate, inflation and mortality assumptions. Any changes in these assumptions will impact upon the carrying amount of employment benefit obligations.

3 Tax expense [Refer Note 6]

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgements are involved in determining the provision for income taxes, if any, including amount expected to be paid/recovered for uncertain tax positions. Further, significant judgement is exercised to ascertain amount of deferred tax asset (DTA) that could be recognised based on the probability that future taxable profits will be available against which DTA can be utilized and amount of temporary difference in which DTA can not be recognised on want of probable taxable profits.

Notes to Financial Statements

4 Provisions [Refer Note 21]

5 Contingencies (Refer Note 41)

45 STANDARDS ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE

Ind AS 115 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

On 28 March 2018, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) notified the new revenue recognition standard, viz., Ind AS 115 Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Ind AS 115 is applicable for the financial years beginning on or after 1 April 2018 for all Ind AS companies. The new standard establishes a five step model related to revenue recognition from contracts with customers. It permits either 'full retrospective' adoption in which the standard is applied to all of the periods presented or a 'modified retrospective' adoption.

The Company is evaluating its various contractual arrangements and the available transition methods. #### Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign currency transactions and advance consideration:

On March 28, 2018, MCA has notified the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2018 containing Appendix B to Ind AS 21, Foreign currency transactions and advance consideration which clarifies the date of the transaction for the purpose of determining the exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income, when an entity has received or paid advance consideration in a foreign currency. This amendment will come into force from April 1, 2018. The Company expects the impact of this on the financial statements to be insignificant.

Amendments to Ind AS 12 Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses

The amendments clarify that an entity needs to consider whether tax law restricts the sources of taxable profits against which it may make deductions on the reversal of that deductible temporary difference. Furthermore, the amendments provide guidance on how an entity should determine future taxable profits and explain the circumstances in which taxable profit may include the recovery of some assets for more than their carrying amount.

These amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2018. These amendments are expected to have insignificant impact on the Company.
